Covering Upper Wensleydale from Wensley to Garsdale Head, with Walden and Bishopdale,
Swaledale from Keld to Gunnerside plus Cowgill in Upper Dentdale.

Guest Editorial

Imagine setting off for a short summer's day walk in Upper Wensleydale. The great attraction is that you can be all by yourself, on a fell, within minutes of leaving home, car or workplace. You are only on a lunch break, so you look for a place to sit down as soon as you are a satisfying distance from the town or village. The top of a gill edge would do. There you can stand and look down on running water, or look across to fields in the distance.

What would you hear, when you began to listen? Almost certainly you'd hear sheep bleating. The thought might occur that to live in Upper Wensleydale, you really must have a fondness for sheep. There'll be grasshoppers clicking, and a chirruping in the trees. A bumble bee will buzz by, while a fly will more likely buzz into your ear. Then you'd hear the hum of an engine, a tractor chugging up a hill or a lorry thundering along the main road. In the sky the passenger jets are inaudibly high, but a dinky plane might come past, or perhaps a warplane. That, at least, is how it should be.

Upper Wensleydale needs bustle. It needs to be a place to move about in, to do business in, and to enjoy. It has never been easy living here. There are always kingdoms and forces out to destroy. A thousand years ago it was the invading Normans, who conquered the land and carved it up, creating a new aristocracy, a privileged few. They redeemed themselves by becoming a conduit for monasticism and learning, but social injustice remains a central part of their legacy. Such destructive forces are still present.

Someone said to me the other day, "Wensleydale is still a magical place, only not as magical as it was." Then somebody else chipped in to finish the sentence, "or could be." I wonder whether you agree? I think Upper Wensleydale will thrive only by retaining diverse land ownership. There are many farmers, of the tenanted and land-owning kind. We need to keep it that way. Just as a thousand years ago, there are very rich people who covet this land as a private playground. They need to be resisted. This should be a place where anyone can set up home and enjoy the pleasures that are on offer.

Alan S. Watkinson

It is with great sadness that we learned of the death of Alan Watkinson, the founding editor of this Newsletter, on Friday, July 14th, after a long and brave fight with cancer.

Alan founded the Upper Wensleydale Newsletter in 1995 for an initial trial run of three issues. Such was the popularity of that trial that now, some 238 issues later, it is more popular than ever. This is due almost entirely to the enthusiasm and commitment of Alan. Whilst a man of wide ranging interests, after his family, his passion was the Newsletter.

He was an inspirational leader, assembling a willing team of over 70 volunteers to produce the Newsletter eleven times a year (he let us have Christmas off), but he led from the front – he wrote almost every editorial, compiled nearly every puzzle and was constantly thinking of new things to pursue for articles, features and interviews.

He will be greatly missed.

Our thoughts and prayers go to his widow Shirley who has been a tower of strength, particularly through his long illness, and also to their daughter Kate and son John and their families who all meant so much to him

We will say more about Alan in the next issue.

A.M.

Television Programme

The Channel 4 TV series on the Yorkshire Dales and the Lake District National Parks which is currently showing on More4 on a Tuesday at 9.00pm will be featuring the adventures of the Hardraw 'Ladies who Cave' on August 1st.

Last chance to see the stars of Malham Cove

People are being urged to visit Malham Cove to see a pair of Peregrine Falcons – and their three young – before a public viewpoint closes at the end of July.

The young are still dependent on their parents for food, meaning that they are still in and around the Cove – and putting on spectacular displays. "All three young are still learning the flying and hunting skills that will enable them to survive once they leave the Cove. The views of the siblings as they chase each other about are nothing short of spectacular," said the Yorkshire Dales National Park Authority's Wildlife Conservation Officer, Ian Court.

The free viewpoint is open Saturdays to Wednesdays (closed Thursdays and Fridays) until Sunday, July 30th. Information Assistants and a team of volunteers are on hand to show people the birds through telescopes.

Rainfall Figures in mm

	January	February	March	April	May	June	Total for half year
Hawes	69.0	149.0	201.0	16.0	62.0	156.0	653.0
West Burton	40.0	95.0	120.0	10.0	41.0	160.0	466.0
Carperby	30.5	96.0	121.0	12.0	68.5	123.0	439.0
Bainbridge	58.3	107.8	148.5	11.8	43.4	127.0	496.8
Thorton Rust	53.0	103.0	125.0	11.0	53.0	136.0	481.0

The rainfall figures for the Upper Dale this last 6 months are lower than for the beginning of 2016 although very variable. The higher figures for March and, to some extent June, are due in part to "conveyors" of warm and very moist air from lower latitudes of the north Atlantic becoming stationary for a time over the Lake District and northern England and depositing larger than average amounts of rain in this area. Fortunately we have also had a very dry April. Let's hope there is more dry, warm weather to come!

Family-friendly Mountain Bike Trail Planned for Swaledale

An easy-going mountain bike trail is to be created along the length of Swaledale, between Reeth and Keld. "The Swale Trail" will be aimed at aspiring young mountain bikers and families who want to ride together. It will be a unique facility in the Yorkshire Dales National Park – a valley bottom route 12 miles in length, of which 75% will be on traffic free tracks.

Access rights for the trail already exist, as it brings together sections of bridleway and what are known as 'unsurfaced, unclassified roads'. Turning it into the Swale Trail will include upgrading the surfaces, improving drainage and protecting sections which have suffered from river bank erosion and flooding. The work, which has already started, will take place in stages through the rest of 2017, with the official opening planned for Easter 2018. It will be a 'multi-user trail', meaning that it can be used by all, including walkers and horse riders and will be promoted to people with mobility difficulties and families with buggies.

The project, which will be managed by the Yorkshire Dales National Park Authority (YDNPA), will cost nearly a quarter of a million pounds with funding coming from The Yorkshire Dales LEADER programme (£98,000); Richmondshire District Council's Economic Growth Fund (£50,000); the YDNPA (£60,000); and the Pennine Trails National Trails Partnership (£13,000).

Theatre by Bus

Dales Calendar for Cancer Care

Anita Watson of Askrigg, known to friends and colleagues as Tippy, has produced a dales calendar for 2018 under extraordinary circumstances.

As she started the venture in January, with plans to spend the spring and summer photographing a range of activities as well as the changing landscape, she was diagnosed with a rare and invasive breast cancer. "I had an itinerary planned for the whole summer," says Tippy. But after photographing the annual parade of the pregnant ewes through Askrigg, and the Flying Scotsman heading over the Ribbleshead viaduct in celebration of the reopening of a section of the Settle-Carlisle line in the spring, the treatment started in earnest.

"I wanted to go ahead with the calendar because I needed to channel my energy into something positive," she says. "But I just couldn't do all I planned. I needed to get the calendar out quickly. So I just concentrated on getting as much variety of scenery, place, colour and texture as I could."

The curtailment of activities is nowhere noticeable. It's a superb collection of pictures of the dales at their best: Lady Hill near Aysgarth, Bolton Castle in the spring sun, the River Swale at its bluest - and, of course, the sheep and the steam train. The proceeds will go the charity Breast Cancer Care from which Tippy has received, and continues to receive, so much support, by telephone or online, from fellow sufferers.

She is full of praise for the charity, for the hospitals in initially, Hartlepool, then Northallerton and Middlesbrough where she still receives treatment, and for all the people who continue to support her, and who are helping the sale of the calendar. The Yorkshire Dales Calendar 2018 by Anita Watson is available from local shops, YDNPA outlets, and on Amazon, Facebook (search for Dales Calendar) and Twitter @dalesanita. You can call the Breast Cancer Care helpline free on 0800 800 6000 or visit www.breastcancercare.org.uk.

Heavens Above

There's a total eclipse of the Sun this month, on August 21, but you'll need to travel to the USA to see it. It's the best solar eclipse visible from America since 1979 with the shadow of the Moon sweeping right across the country from Oregon to South Carolina. We only get to see a tiny partial eclipse over here so if you'd like to see the Full Monty you'll have to do so on-line. Visit eclipse.gsfc.nasa.gov/solar.html for more details.

The Lunar disc also plays a crucial role during this year's annual Perseid meteor display, but sadly, not a particularly positive one. The shower (usually one of the best with dozens of 'shooting stars' an hour in a good year) comes to a peak on August 12/13, but light from a waning gibbous Moon will wash out all but the brightest meteors after it rises around midnight.

On a more positive note, August sees the return of truly dark skies, and with the Moon out of the way after mid-month, a clear night will give you a spectacular view of the summer constellations. If you can get to a location well away from the street lamps and other forms of artificial lighting, the Milky Way is a beautiful sight, arching right across the sky from Auriga in the north-east down to Sagittarius in the south-west. It's particularly rich high overhead in the constellation of Cygnus the Swan. A good pair of decent sized binoculars will show you star clusters and nebulae by the score. To get the full effect let your eyes become fully dark adapted - about 20 minutes will do the trick. You'll be quite surprised at how much more you'll see. Have clear skies!

Prunings

Starting early this month as deadlines have been moved forward. My observations may be getting a bit past their sell by date when you read them. Having said that, there is so much to enjoy this time of year it hardly matters.

Some of my favourite plants are absolutely at their best – Fuchsia “Mrs Popple”, which benefited from the mild winter, sprouted quite high up on the stems and is now so big it has broken its ties and is threatening to engulf the dining room window. As our windows are small, the room is dark enough already without something reminiscent of a Triffid waving its arms about outside. (Green string and supports required).

Rose Of Sharon (Hypericum calycinum) is also spectacular at the moment. Wherever they are found in the dales they put on a good show as they are particularly fond of our lime laden soil, for although the flowers drop quickly and leave a lot of debris they keep going for weeks and the sunny yellow is unmistakable. Years ago I made the mistake of assuming that I might get similar performance from its smaller cousin Hypericum Androsaemum. Definitely not so! The plant is smaller with attractive yellow flowers and pretty seed heads, but the seeds distribute themselves everywhere and it seems impossible to get rid of it. Pulling out seedlings when they are young is a hit and miss business – you miss a lot of them, and one brought up a lump of the drive when I yanked it out.

We have had a wonderful show of flowers on the Jasmine which has survived against the front wall, but the winter flowering Clematis which I put with it is becoming too enthusiastic and will need cutting back as it has found a power cable and will shortly reach the gutters. We can do without that happening! One of the most floriferous and sweet smelling shrubs this year has been Philadelphus “Belle Etoile”. It is a specimen that the Royal Horticultural Society recommends for fragrance and mine has now reached a substantial size. The single white flowers are relatively large with a tinge of purple at the centre. My other Philadelphus has been a damp squib in comparison as it flowered earlier and heavy rain destroyed most of the blossom. Philadelphus Aurea (also highly scented) did not do much this year either, my fault for cutting it back too late when I realised how big it was becoming.

August is of course an excellent time for taking cuttings as everything is in full growth. I have a tub of heather which has done very well but is looking leggy. Next year it will need replanting so this month I shall select as many new green shoots as I can find. It really is as simple as strip the lower leaves off the stem, scrape it gently, then dib into cuttings compost. All they need after that is to be kept damp. Some growers like to use a plastic bag. I prefer to use smallish pots (preferably clay) and then cover with half a two litre lemonade bottle. They need light but not bright sunshine which will dry them out. Rooted plants should be ready for potting on in the autumn.

Good luck! And whatever you grow, take time to enjoy it.

West Burton May Fair A History

In the early 1980s West Burton Village Hall combined with the then Bishopdale Valley Sports and Social Club held an event on the August bank holiday Monday. The chapel had various fundraising events until in 1982 they decided to hold a Country Fayre on the late May bank holiday Monday of the following year.

This early May fair had the usual stalls and teas; organisations such as the police, ambulance and fire brigade attended and entertainment was provided by a fairground organ, dog running, sheep shearing and dry stone walling. A little more exciting were the tractor and trailer rides that started outside the chapel and went up Walden road to the top of the first hill and back!

The day ended with communal singing and a short service in the chapel. So, for a while there were two events.

There then came a proposal of having one event, a meeting of chapel members agreed to put the proposal to the village hall committee who agreed.

At first there was confusion over who had what. Some chapel members were unhappy with the introduction of a tombola and raffle as they were thought to be forms of gambling. The village hall hosted the teas and thought they should have the profit. Finally it was agreed that the takings would be shared equally between the village hall and the chapel (I am not sure at what point the Bishopdale Valley Sports and Social Club folded with the demise of the football team).

The joint event on the late May bank holiday worked well. The village green is essential to the Fair and each year permission was sought for its use from the Parish Council. After several years the Parish Council said they would like something in return and it was agreed they would have donations from parking.

To organise the May Fair, originally a committee of six people was set up each year; three from the chapel and three from the hall. This evolved into anyone who would like to help organise.

In June 2012 due to the Queen's diamond jubilee celebrations the Fair was replaced by a different social event, including a water slide for children which proved very popular and is now at the end of the day as everyone gets soaked and needs to go home to dry out.

Since then we have established a series of events over the year run by "The Fundraising Committee". Typically this involves a quiz and supper in February; an event in the autumn which last year was a 'soup and sweet' lunch, as well as the May Fair in May.

All proceeds are shared between the chapel, the village hall and the Parish Council for the benefit of the people of Burton cum Walden Parish.

The Fair has evolved over the last 34 years to make it a day to be enjoyed by visitors and residents alike. It is a day when many people come back to the village to catch up with family and friends. This year saw one resident hosting tea and cakes for her 4 granddaughters, their husbands and 6 great grandchildren.

A busy programme includes Maypole Dancing and Morris Dancers; a dog show; sheep dog running; tours of the school; junior fun run; bouncy activities for children; a quoits competition and closes with egg throwing, the raffle draw and finally hymns in the chapel.

In the past we have had circus acts and birds of prey shows and over the years we have bought marquees and bunting and acquired extra tables and chairs for outside on the day.

The key to success is the small committee that organises the overall event and then asks everyone to help. Each person then takes responsibility for their event whether it be the hot dogs, the teas, the various stalls, the parking or publicity, to name but a few.

Publicity is as important as ever and as well as roadside signs and local publications, information goes into the Parish Newsletter and every resident has a programme delivered through their door.

Why don't you come along next year and find out what a good day it is? Even this year when, for the first time in years, it rained, (thank goodness for the marquees which take several hours to put up on the Saturday morning) most of the events took place and over £3,000 was raised.

Roll Over

A few years ago the car completely broke down in London when we were visiting family. It was an AA relay job.

Early Monday morning an AA man with a huge smile announced it was the first outing with his spanking new pickup truck, car on the back and us resplendent and high behind the driver in his immaculate cab.

We had a quick stop at the first service station for a few sweets—as shown. I never eat a full package all at once, so put them to one side and in the warmth of the new cab, dropped off. Rolos roll and did between my trousers and the new upholstery and melted. Maybe my chosen words could have been more carefully phrased.

Tapping the driver on the shoulder “I’m afraid I’ve had an awful accident” I said. A quick glance round and not noticing the wrapper he nearly crashed!

Undeterred, something had to be done. A small fruit knife was found in the bag. I knelt on the floor in front of our back seat to scrape off as much of the offending mess as possible from seat and trousers and of course popping in the mouth anything still suitable. ‘He’ glanced round again; there was quite a swerve! We changed vehicles near Ripon. We assume by now he is out of trauma!

Upper Dales Family History Group

June's speaker was Anthony Atkinson with the story of Mary Eleanor Bowes (the three times great grandmother of the late Queen Mother) who was once described as the greatest heiress of the North. Until recently Anthony was a guide at the Gibside estate near Gateshead, formerly Mary Eleanor's home, so he knew plenty of background details about the Bowes family.

Mary Eleanor's father, George Bowes, had married twice, losing his first wife after less than three months. After that he threw himself into improving his estate and building up his business interests until, by the time of his death he owned 43,000 acres of land and 40 coal mines, as well as a successful stud at Streatlam Castle in Teesdale.

Many years later he did remarry and his only daughter was born in 1749. Mary Eleanor was over-indulged as a child, and although she received a very good education, other aspects of her upbringing were much neglected. When her father died in 1760 she was only 11 years old, her mother was a virtual recluse and no-one was in a position to give her guidance.

Eventually moving to London in the care of an aunt and governess who found her hard to control, she married John Lyon, the 9th Earl of Strathmore, on her 18th birthday. In accordance with George Bowes' will, John Lyon changed his name to Bowes Lyon, a name which the family have kept ever since. The couple had five children together in a very short space of time but eventually became estranged before the Earl died of consumption in 1776.

Now a wealthy widow, Mary was tricked into a death bed marriage with an Irish adventurer, Andrew Robinson Stoney, believing that he had been fatally wounded in a duel to defend her honour. Once the knot was tied, Stoney made a miraculous recovery, but the tables were turned when he discovered that his new wife had protected her property by the equivalent of a pre-nuptial agreement. He now became physically and mentally abusive, starving and threatening to kill her as well as cutting her off from all contact with her friends. Eventually after suffering for several years Mary Eleanor managed to escape with the help of her maids and filed for divorce, a most unusual step at the time.

Stoney however snatched her from the street and fled to the north of England. After an 11 day chase during which they crossed and re-crossed the Pennines several times she was eventually released when a Parish Constable at Neasham near Darlington recognised the pair. A separation was granted and Stoney was sent to prison on charges of abduction. Mary Eleanor retired to the south of England, was reconciled to her children, and lived a quiet country life until she died in 1800 at the age of only 51. She was buried by her own request in Poets Corner in Westminster Abbey, reputedly wearing her fabulous, jewel encrusted wedding dress.

Meetings recommence on Wednesday, September 27, at 2.00pm in Harmby village hall near Leyburn, when the speaker is social historian David Scrimgeour on Early Asylum Life, a look at the lives of some of those who passed through the doors of the West Riding Pauper Lunatic Asylum in Wakefield during the first 50 years of its existence, telling their stories in their own words. Non-members are very welcome at £2.

Church Bulletins

They're back! Those wonderful Church Bulletins! Thank goodness for the church ladies with typewriters. These sentences have appeared in church bulletins or were announced at church services:

The Fasting & Prayer Conference includes meals.

Scouts are saving aluminium cans, bottles and other items to be recycled. Proceeds will be used to cripple children.

The sermon this morning: 'Jesus Walks on the Water'. The sermon tonight: 'Searching for Jesus'.

Ladies, don't forget the rummage sale. It's a chance to get rid of those things not worth keeping around the house. Bring your husbands.

Don't let worry kill you off - let the Church help.

Miss Charlene Mason sang 'I will not pass this way again,' giving obvious pleasure to the congregation.

For those of you who have children and don't know it, we have a nursery downstairs.

Next Thursday there will be try-outs for the choir. They need all the help they can get.

Irving Benson and Jessie Carter were married on October 24th in the church. So ends a friendship that began in their school days.

A bean supper will be held on Tuesday evening in the church hall. Music will follow.

At the evening service tonight, the sermon topic will be 'What Is Hell?' Come early and listen to our choir practice.

Eight new choir robes are currently needed due to the addition of several new members and to the deterioration of some older ones.

Please place your donation in the envelope along with the deceased person you want remembered.

The church will host an evening of fine dining, super entertainment and gracious hostility.

Pot-luck supper Sunday at 5.00pm - prayer and medication to follow.

The ladies of the Church have cast off clothing of every kind. They may be seen in the basement on Friday afternoon.

This evening at 7.00pm there will be a hymn singing in the park across from the Church.

Bring a blanket and come prepared to sin.

The pastor would appreciate it if the ladies of the Congregation would lend him their electric girdles for the pancake breakfast next Sunday.

Low Self Esteem Support Group will meet Thursday at 7.00pm. Please use the back door.

The eighth-graders will be presenting Shakespeare's Hamlet in the Church basement Friday at 7.00pm. The congregation is invited to attend this tragedy.

And this one just about sums them all up:

The Associate Minister unveiled the church's new campaign slogan last Sunday: 'I Upped My Pledge - Up Yours.'

The Upper Dales Health Watch

Synopsis of the meeting held on June 12th.

The Central Dales Practice is using Harrogate and District NHS Foundation Trust's Infection Prevention Control guidance booklet to ensure compliance. One of the main challenges is the need to replace floor coverings which will cost £3.5K. Any support from the community to help pay for this would be much appreciated. The balancing act between prescribing antibiotics and keeping patients out of hospital is a challenge. Hand hygiene is the most important message for the public.

Broadband speed at Aysgarth Surgery is slow as communication goes via the Hawes Surgery and back down the dale. E-Referrals are possible from Aysgarth. Both surgeries need their IT systems to be linked.

Purdah delayed further discussion on the possible closure of A&E and Maternity services at the Darlington Memorial Hospital. A meeting with Rishi Sunak MP still has to be arranged. Reeth and Leyburn Practices will be invited to this meeting, as will YAS (Blue Light ambulances).

The UDHW has helped organise a revised delivery system for medication which starts w/c June 26th 2017. Repeat prescriptions in upper Wensleydale, (apart from Bainbridge), need to be with the Aysgarth Surgery by Thursday for delivery the following Monday. Muker and Keld repeat prescriptions from the Central Dales Practice need to be ordered by Wednesday for delivery the following Friday.

The Central Dales Practice is one of 6 practices piloting a Prescribing Project to review medicines being prescribed. The initial focus will be on Sycamore Hall.

Jane Ritchie has been reappointed as the Health Engagement (HEN) Representative for Richmondshire for another 3 year term.

Wensleydale School has been asked to organise a focus group of pupils to discuss Mental Health issues for young people.

The Health Accommodation Trust (HAT) charity has been set up to raise, hold and spend money on non-medical items for the Step up/ Step down rooms across Hambleton, Richmondshire and the Whitby area.

Music For a Summer Evening

As part of the ongoing series of fundraising concerts at St Margaret's Church in Hawes, I am providing an evening of music on the organ. This will take place on Saturday August 19th at 7.30pm. Entry to this event is £7.00 on the door. Why not come along and enjoy a relaxed evening of music with some humorous anecdotes along the way. The music including many popular and well known pieces, ranges from Bach to Elgar, Handel to Parry and a whole lot more besides. There will also be a raffle during the interval.

The organ in Hawes church is a lovely instrument and the church itself enjoys a fine natural acoustic which I think really helps to lift the sound. It would be fantastic to see as many people there as possible to help support the ongoing fundraising efforts of St. Margaret's and also to support me!

Wensleydale Music & Theatre Group Panto News

Hello from Wensleydale Music and Theatre Group. Summer hardly seems to have got started and Hawes isn't quite yet in full bloom so it seems a little premature to be talking of this year's panto. Not a bit of it - we have already started planning. Our production this year will be the rather imaginatively titled, 'Dick Whittington and The Caribbean Pirates'. What a combination! Fun for all the family guaranteed. Hot off the press is news that this year we have a new director! - Amy Cockett. Amy, a regular and well known member of the group will take the reins, megaphone and chair of the director. Good luck Amy!

The first read through will commence at 7.30 pm Tuesday, September 5th at GTec on the Industrial Estate, Hawes with casting later that week. If you are interested in a part whether on stage (either in a main part or in the chorus) or being involved backstage (set building, painting or anything else you can offer) please come along. If you are interested but have no experience, that is no problem. New members are always welcome.

For everyone looking to attend the panto please make a note in your diary, performances in The Market House, Hawes are from Tuesday, November 28th to Friday, December 1st at 7.30pm with an additional performance at 2.00 pm Sunday, December 3rd. This is your panto, do join us or simply come along and participate in the audience.

Police Report

Recent incidents of interest in the area include:

June

- 18 A Road rage incident occurred on the A684 at Aysgarth. Both parties were spoken to and advised as to their future conduct.
- 25 A road related incident involving a motorcyclist resulted in him being issued with a Sect59 notice.
- 26 An RTC occurred in Thoraby where a lorry collided with and damaged a wall.
- 30 A case of Fraud occurred in Hawes. A person thought they were buying a genuine vehicle from a seller. The vehicle did not exist.

July

- 1 A motorcyclist was involved in a serious RTC at Appersett. No other vehicles or property was involved.
- 1 A minor RTC happened when a male under the influence of alcohol stepped off the footpath on Brunt Acres Road and was clipped by a passing car.
- 2 A male was reported as acting in an aggressive manner in Askrigg. No further action was required.
- 3 Theft of 700 litres of diesel was reported from a property in Askrigg.
- 5 A burglary at Cattriggs Farm, from where a Yamaha 55 Grizzly Quad bike and various tools were taken from two out buildings.
- 5 A wildlife incident involving a deer being hit by a car on the A684 Aysgarth and left seriously injured by the roadside. The animal suffered until it was dispatched by a local vet.

Again, we have received numerous calls of suspicious circumstances, which have resulted in persons and vehicles being checked. Thank you and keep them coming.

Electoral Review of Richmondshire: Warding Arrangements

The Local Government Boundary Commission for England has commenced an electoral review of Richmondshire District Council and seeks your views on future ward boundaries for the council. The electoral review will propose:

- The total number of councillors;
- The number, names and boundaries of wards;
- The number of councillors for each ward.

The review can recommend changes to the electoral arrangements of parish and town councils. However, this is only when the parished area is to be divided between wards.

Consultation closes on September 4th 2017. Draft recommendations should be published in October and after a further consultation, final recommendations are expected to be published in April 2018. The new electoral arrangements will come into effect at the local elections in 2019. Views are welcomed from individuals and organisations as to the best pattern of wards to accommodate 24 district councillors which meet the requirements set out in law below.

- Each district councillor represents roughly the same number of electors as others in the district.
- The wards reflect, as far as possible, the interests and identities of local communities.
- That the electoral arrangements should provide for effective and convenient local government.

Advice about getting involved can be found at www.lgbce.org.uk. A consultation portal at <https://consultation.lgbce.org.uk> has interactive maps of the current ward boundaries and also allows you to draw your own boundaries and upload documents directly to the site.

Views can be emailed to reviews@lgbce.org.uk or write to:

The Review Officer (Richmondshire)
Local Government Boundary Commission for England, 14th Floor Millbank Tower, Millbank, London, SW1P 4QP

You should ensure that evidence supports your submission. All representations received during the review will be placed on the LGBCE website with any personal identifying information removed.

Carperby Open Gardens

On a lovely sunny day people from far and wide enjoyed viewing twenty one gardens. Splendid refreshments were served in the Village Institute. Muker Silver Band played during the afternoon.

A grand total of £2,397.55 was raised towards the upkeep and maintenance of the Institute.

Many thanks to all who opened gardens, contributed food and a big thank you to all the helpers who worked hard to make this event successful.

Dales Discovery 2017

Dales Discovery is a fascinating series of illustrated talks focused on Upper Wensleydale and the surrounding area. It runs for six weeks each year from late July to the end of August on Wednesday evenings.

The talks cover a range of topics, from local characters of the past to the activities of a local postman/farmer; from the beauty of the Settle Carlisle railway to dormice in the dales; from the nearby but largely unexplored Ingleborough Nature Reserve to cheese making.

The talks last up to an hour and a half and start at 8.00pm in St Margaret's Church, Hawes.

Whether you are a visitor or live here, you are most welcome and will find the talks, which only cost £3 per head, very interesting. By the later talks, you may even find our new lavatories open!

A.M.

Swift, Noisy, Red, Bright!

More on words!

We seem to have spent a good deal of time looking at place names. When in 1086 every settlement, no matter how tiny, was visited and its name, details and population recorded in the Domesday Book, we might have thought that everyone spoke the same— or that before the twelfth century nothing else was used!

No way! Some of our oldest words go back to the original Celtic or Brythonic spoken in England and Wales long ago. In fact it wasn't necessarily place names that were as important as rivers. When all's said and done, they were the main means of communication, better than the roads (many of which in our area were already in place linking Dales together but it took a great deal of time to negotiate them!)

So let's look at river names:

AIRE The strong river; recorded as YR in 959

CLOUGH (Garsdale) CLOH = Ravine

RIBBLE = Boundary, (the west of Craven) recorded in 715

RAWTHEY (Sedburgh) = RED, presumably because of the red sandstone outcropping along its course.

LUNE Brythonic LLAWN for 'full or SLAN for healthy.

SWALE = Rushing SUALVA Old English 730; we know it's the fastest rising river when it rains.

URE/YORE recorded tenth century as EARP or JUR in the 1100s

NIDD = bright Celtic 715

WHARFE = winding. Early British recorded as WEORF and UERB 963

CALDER (West Riding one) = stony

TEES: TES from the Celtic = sunshine/heat probably referring to the boiling and rushing of its waterfalls.

DERWENT (three in Northern England) = valley thick with oaks from Brythonic

SKELL (Fountains Abbey and Ripon) SKJALLR = resounding, swift, noisy.

Also sometimes called HEAVEN WATER because of its later link with the abbey.

But as for the river DEE in Dentdale a blank has been drawn and because of confusion over different sources; the famous river Ouse actually means WATER! River Ouse : Water Water; a bit like Semmerwater meaning Sea mere Water (Lake) or Water, water, water, water!
